

IDP Global Network

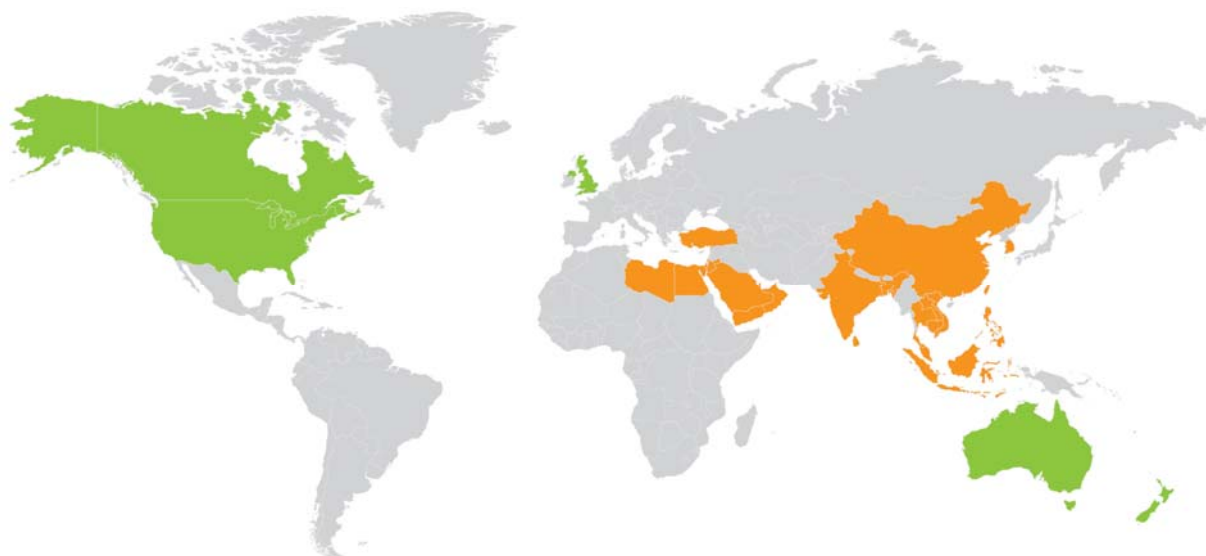

IDP Education's corporate office is in Melbourne, Australia. The company's global network covers more than 25 countries, with over 80 student service offices throughout the four regions covering source markets countries, plus offices in the USA and United Kingdom. Australia has student placement offices in the main capital cities where international students, currently in the country, receive advice and information on further courses and institutions in Australia.

Each region is headed by a Regional Director who is responsible for leading the management of IDP's multi-destination student placement, testing and training businesses. They also develop and drive the planning process and the successful implementation of regional business plans that support growth and investment strategies and opportunities, ensuring leverage of knowledge, skills and infrastructure across countries and business lines in the region.

Country Directors are responsible, as members of their regional team, for managing the multi-destination student placement, testing and training businesses at the country level in IDP's global operation, driving planning and growth strategies, and leveraging knowledge and skills across their in-country office network to achieve the productivity and service expectations of the business.

IDP has Client Relations Teams located in each of the destination countries, which provide a strategic link between institutional Clients and the IDP network and head office.

The Client Relations Team in Australia undertakes business development and operational improvements across the network and provides a two-way communication channel between the IDP network and its clients.
