International Travel Scholarships

At Birmingham City University, we offer our first and second-year students a fantastic opportunity to spend their summer on an International Travel Scholarship Scheme. Open to both home/EU and overseas students (provided the country visited is not your place of birth), we offer funding of up to £1,000 to enable you to participate in charitable projects or carry out work experience with universities internationally.

“Going volunteering in Nepal was definitely one of the most intense experiences I have ever lived, and surely one of the decisions I will never regret taking.”

“The project I worked in involved volunteering in an orphanage/children’s home in a small village. As volunteers we had to help around the household and look after the children while they were not at school, and also go to the local library, where most children in the village went every morning before school, to do their homework.”

“I would like to thank Birmingham City University Business School again for giving me the chance to get here. Travelling to a 3rd world country and being involved with a project like this is one of those experiences everyone should do at least once in a lifetime, as it awakens you from so many points of view!”

“Most importantly, you have the chance of putting a smile or two on the faces of the ones that weren’t born with just the same chances as you, and, if you are lucky enough, you can leave there with a few new friends for life.”
